Addiction...it's on the news every night. 6 people die daily, in Maryland, from opioid overdose. Families are ripped apart, jobs are lost, futures are destroyed because of alcoholism. What is the answer? Do we collectively throw up our arms in despair and allow this epidemic to derail and destroy the lives of our co-workers, neighbors, families, and communities? NO! Recovery is possible, and together we can make a difference.

According to a study done by Johns Hopkins University, individuals who go through rehabilitation programs FOLLOWED by Recovery Housing are 10 times more likely to remain sober longer. Living in Recovery is the second leg of the recovery journey that helps people rebuild their lives and stay sober.

We are asking you on #GivingTuesday, November 28, 2017 to make an investment in the lives of the families of your community. Millions will stand in line to get Black Friday deals. Millions more will sit at their computer and do online shopping on Cyber Monday.

The question is...how many will take the time to make a selfless contribution to the hope and future of those struggling with the cycle and horror of addiction?
